Meetings become more strategic, and your company becomes much more productive.
- Get immediate access to company data so you can instantly find the information that you need from a selection of dashboards, analyses and reporting in a single solution and on a single architecture.
- Increase your revenue by monitoring and analyzing costs down to transactional levels for identifying new revenue opportunities. BI also performs "what-if" analyses to see the potential impact of changing variables on your bottom line.
- Gain valuable customer insight by having more access to information across the enterprise to identify and understand your customers' needs, habits and preferences.
- Empower your entire organization with an intuitive, userfriendly application that requires little training. Information can even be customized for the individual's role in the organization and is easily accessible via the Web.
- Get a fast return on investment through tight integration with your IT infrastructure, ePS MIS/ERP system and third party applications. ePS BI allows you to get more from your solutions, benefit from a shorter implementation time and recoup your costs quickly.
